"This bottling is sourced from five different vineyards within the Willamette Valley, with 40% of the total drawn from four single sites with Willamette's sub-AVAs. Intricate and layered in aromas and flavors, suggesting different degrees of ripeness and soil influence from the various growers sites. All the fruit notes suggest red tones such as cherries, strawberries, and even rhubarb. If you are up for a wine that will develop in the glass and hold your attention, this is the ticket.
